

UGA Extension Henry County Beekeeping Program

A Three-Day Program on the Basics of Beekeeping.

UGA Extension Henry County is offering a three-day course on the basics of beekeeping. Topics include how to get started in beekeeping, equipment, bee biology, honey extraction, and other topics.

The instructor is Mr. Tom Bonnell, a local beekeeper. He and his wife live on eight acres in Hampton, Georgia. He became a hobbyist beekeeper in 1996 so his gardens would grow great vegetables from pollination by the honeybees. He has a passion for teaching the basics of beekeeping for schools, clubs, and other affiliations with the hope of increasing the number of future beekeepers.

Program Schedule: Each day we will offer the program once in the afternoon at 1:30pm to 3:00pm, and again in the afternoon 6:30pm to 8:00pm covering the same topics. Here are dates with topics:
