

UNIVERSITY OF GEORGIA
EXTENSION

Rockdale County

In 2024, Rockdale Extension received $145,000 in USDA funding for the expansion of an educational garden at Wheeler Park. The project will build on successes with pollinator education and produce donations through ongoing collaboration with the Master Gardener Extension Volunteers. Garden programming will connect citizens with where their food comes from & empower many to garden at home.

Rockdale Eats A Rainbow reached 100+ weekly attendees, and 4-H saw a 300% increase in youth at 4th–6th grade District Project Achievement. These programs, as well as new successes like the 4-H engineering club and cooking club, will be repeated in 2025.

A healthy Georgia is a better Georgia.

University of Georgia Cooperative Extension offers programming focused on mental health, financial well-being, nutrition and everything in between. UGA Extension had 1,756,355 face-to-face contacts in 2024. Of these, 200,067 contacts addressed health and wellness topics, including rural and farm stress.

Extension is committed to helping rural Georgia farmers and families thrive. UGA Extension provides physical and mental health resources to keep rural Georgia growing stronger, especially when times are tough. Our new Behavioral Health Team provides fact sheets, trainings and a weekly blog—all to help Georgia individuals and families thrive.

Growing cities.

UGA Extension helps urban gardeners develop school gardens, community gardens and urban farms to benefit their communities. Extension works with educators to create sustainable outdoor classrooms that function as successful teaching tools. Community gardeners are supported in growing healthy food crops in small spaces while urban farmers are encouraged to apply the latest agricultural research to grow their businesses.

Committed to Georgia's youth.

Georgia's 4-H enrolled 193,518 youths across the state during the 2023–24 school year.
